Terms of Service

This page (together with the documents referred to on it) set out the terms of use on which you may make use of the Nottingham News Centre's website at nottinghamnewscentre.com (hereafter referred to as "site"). These terms apply to all users of our site.

Please read the following terms and conditions carefully. When you use this website, you acknowledge that you have read, understood, and agree to be bound by the policies, terms and conditions set forth herein. If you do not agree to these terms and conditions of use, please do not use our site.

I hereby acknowledge that I have read, understood, and agree to be bound by the policies, terms and conditions set forth in this document.

Your Account

If you use this site, you are responsible for maintaining the confidentiality of your account and password and for restricting access to your computer. You also agree to accept responsibility for all activities that occur under your account or password at the Nottingham News Centre CIC.

Nottingham News Centre CIC reserves the right to refuse service, terminate accounts, remove or edit content or cancel orders at their sole discretion.

Accessing our Site

Due to the nature of the internet, the Nottingham News Centre can not guarantee that our website will always be available to you. If the need arises, Nottingham News Centre reserves the right to amend, suspend or withdraw the website that we provide without notice. Nottingham News Centre will not be liable if for any reason our website is unavailable at any time or for any period.

Illegal Or Abusive Usage Is Strictly Prohibited

You must not abuse, harass, threaten, impersonate or intimidate other users of our website. You may not use the Nottingham News Centre CIC service for any illegal or unauthorised purpose. International users agree to comply with all local laws (in addition to the laws of the United Kingdom and regarding online conduct and acceptable content). Should you be found to have engaged in illegal or abusive usage of our website, Nottingham News Centre CIC will suspend your account or usage as applicable.

Intellectual Property

Nottingham News Centre is the owner or the licensee of all intellectual property rights on our website, the technical infrastructure relating to them, and the material published on them. Those works are protected by copyright laws and treaties around the world. All such rights are reserved.

Subject to the restrictions set out below, you may download, view and print material from our website for your personal non-commercial use and for internal non-commercial circulation within your organisation. No other use is permitted without our prior written consent. In particular, you may not use any part of the materials on our website for commercial purposes without obtaining our prior written consent.

You must not modify any materials you have printed off or downloaded in any way, and you must not use any illustrations, photographs, video or audio sequences or any graphics separately from any accompanying text.

Nottingham News Centre's status (and that of any identified contributors) as the authors of material on our website must always be acknowledged. No trademark, copyright or other proprietary notices contained in or appearing on material from our website should be altered or removed in whole or in part.

The permission to reproduce material does not extend to material identified as belonging to third parties, where you must obtain the permission of the relevant owners before reproducing such material.

If you print off, copy or download any part of our website in breach of these terms of use, your right to our website will cease immediately and you must, at our option, return or destroy any copies of the materials you have made.
